Chessman Seeks New Hearing

WASHINGTON (AP) — Counsel for Caryl Chessman flew to Washington from a California clemency hearing Friday in a new attempt to get a Supreme Court hearing for the condemned inmate.

Chessman is due to die in San Quentin's gas chamber next Friday unless:

1. Gov. Edmund G. Brown grants a plea to commute the death sentence to life imprisonment on the basis of a three-hour hearing in Sacramento Thursday.

2. Supreme Court Justice William O. Douglas grants a petition filed Friday for more time to prepare a new appeal.

Brown, who opposes capital punishment, said he would announce his decision before Monday.

"I'm going to make a ruling one way or another and then I'm through," Brown said at the close of Thursday's hearing.

Petition For Stay
Friday George T. Davis, Chessman's San Francisco attorney, petitioned Justice Douglas for a stay of execution to enable him to file a new appeal.

Court officials said Douglas would take no action before Monday.

Davis said the new appeal would renew the argument that Chessman's constitutional rights were violated when his conviction was upheld on the basis of what he contends is a faulty record of the original trial.

At his trial in 1948 Chessman was pictured as a lovable, friendly, well-mannered young man who preyed on young couples in parked cars, robbing the men and violating the girls. Despite his protestations of innocence, he was convicted of kidnapping, attempted rape, sex perversion, robbery and car theft. He was sentenced to death on two counts of kidnapping with bodily harm.

Lafayette Youth Clear Of Death

KENNETH V. Branch, 20-year-old Lafayette College student, has been cleared of blame in the highway death of Robert N. Dyson Jr., formerly of Long Pond.

Assistant Dist. Atty. Robert Ungerleider said last night that there is not enough evidence to hold Branch on an involuntary manslaughter charge.

The student, whose home is in Binghamton, N.Y., was the driver of a car which apparently ran over Dyson's body on Route 115, between Belfast and Wind Gap, early Sunday.

Hit Twice
Investigators believe Dyson was knocked down by a hit-run vehicle before being struck by Branch's car.

An autopsy performed at Eastern Hospital yesterday confirmed Coroner George T. Kmetz's finding that Dyson died of a crushed skull.

The examination showed he also had suffered a crushed leg bone some time prior to receiving the fatal head injuries. Dyson, 29-year-old father of three, resided at 524 W. Nesquehoning St., Easton.

DL&W Hit By Recent Recession

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Lackawanna Railroad, seeking Interstate Commerce Commission approval of a merger with the Erie Railroad still is suffering from the effects of the recent economic recession, its president said Friday.

Perry M. Shoemaker said the Lackawanna probably has felt the recession harder than the Erie.

Shoemaker told an ICC hearing he doubted if the effects of the recession were felt as strongly by other railroads in the east and middle west.

For one thing, said Shoemaker, the Lackawanna runs through some harder hit areas than other train lines. He said Erie weathered the recession better because much of its freight is steel and steel products which were not as hard hit.

Shoemaker said he was not certain whether Erie officials would agree with him on this.

Opposition Comment
Atty. Arnold Fein, who represents a small group of Lackawanna stockholders opposing the merger proposal, commented:

"You railroads are going around with a poor mouth to help yourselves. That's part of my trouble."

Fein is seeking a greater share in the new company for the 10 Lackawanna stockholders he represents. Under the merger, each share of Lackawanna stock would be exchanged for one share in the new firm while Erie share would be worth 1 1/4 shares.

In other testimony, Shoemaker said that Lackawanna, in order to put its finances on an even keel, sold 600,000 shares of Nickel Plate Road stock earlier this year.

He said this was a hard decision to make since the stock was the "last big liquid asset the Lackawanna had." But, he said, the company had an accumulation of unpaid bills, had taxes to meet and could see "no immediate prospect of an upturn in traffic to relieve the situation."

Shoemaker said Lackawanna had a $3,934,319 deficit in 1958 in spite of retroactive increases in mail revenue of $1,109,135.

He said the number of employees on the Lackawanna payroll had been reduced 50 per cent in the last 12 years. But he noted that the payroll in 1958 still accounted for 67 cents out of every revenue dollar, compared with 43 cents per revenue dollar 10 years before.

Steelworkers Scale Down Demands
WASHINGTON (AP) — The Steelworkers Union Friday made a compromise peace offer scaling down its money demands, and Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell said he is optimistic that the 94-day steel strike may be settled quickly.

"The parties are closer together than they have been since the negotiations started," Mitchell told newsmen.

Mitchell declined to comment on the merits of the union's latest proposal in which the steelworkers reportedly cut their demands by about one-third.

Earlier, Union President David J. McDonald declined to spell out details.

The administration is expected to seek a strike-halting court injunction early next week in the event industry-union negotiations collapsed or became deadlocked again over the week-end.

Proposal Made To Labor Party

LONDON (AP)—Right-wingers have urged Britain's Labor Party to doff its cloth cap and blue denim, forget about nationalization and become party of all the people.

But the party's militant left-wingers demanded a return to all-out socialism and a reaffirmation of faith in nationalization as "a means to advance Britain's future."

Girl Scalped During Idaho Farm Accident

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah (AP) — A 12-year-old girl, the skin of her head ripped off in a farming accident, died Friday.

Christene Hays was working in an eastern Idaho potato field Monday like thousands of other pupils let out of school to help with the harvest.

A potato digging machine became clogged with weeds. Christene bent over to clean it out. The cogs of the machine grabbed her long auburn pony tail. Christene was flipped over and scalped.

Workers rushed her to doctors in Blackfoot, Idaho. Other men followed with the scalp. Attached to it were Christene's ears, eyebrows lids of the right eye, cheeks and skin from the jawbone and neck.

The facial muscles also were ripped loose. Only a small heart-shaped patch of skin remained on the front of the young girl's face.

The Idaho doctors called a plastic surgeon at the Latter-day Saints Hospital here for advice. He told them to put the scalp in a cool salt solution.

The girl and her scalp were flown here. On her arrival, surgeons worked over her for six hours. They attached her ears, eyebrows and eyelids to the abdomen, hoping they would grow and later could be transplanted to the face and head.

Skin was taken from the abdomen and thigh to cover the neck, cheeks and jawbone. A spokesman reported Thursday on Christene's progress saying he was pleased with the success of the operation. He said Christene's morale was good and her condition was good, considering the extent of the scalping.

A hospital spokesman said she probably died from heart failure due to shock.

California Brush Fire Cause Of Death Near Mount Lukens

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A giant brush fire caused a death Friday and blazed uncontrollably toward a tiny foothill community nestled in a steep-sided canyon.

Residents of the Vogel Flat settlement were evacuated as flames moved down slopes of 5,043-foot Mt. Lukens toward 100 homes in Big Tujunga Canyon.

Fatal Injuries
An Indian freighter from Zuni, N. M., was fatally injured battling the flames on the Mt. Lukens fireline.

The 7,800-acre blaze, which burned into its fourth day, was blamed on a careless smoker. It started in the foothills 15 miles north of Los Angeles.

Massed men and equipment stopped the flames earlier when they menaced expensive hillside homes in suburban Altadena and La Canada.

A House committee, in hearings last week, elicited testimony that several now defunct big-money quiz shows were rigged, with some contestants receiving questions or answers in advance.

The committee concentrated its attention on NBC and such of its well-known shows as "Twenty-One". Then it recessed to Nov. 2.

Errol Flynn On Final Journey

VANCOUVER, B.C. (AP)—Errol Flynn sets out Friday night on his final journey.

The body of the actor, who died here this week, is being sent back to Los Angeles by train.

Accompanying the body will be stunt man Buster Wiles, long-time friend of the man who was an adventurer in real life as well as in his motion pictures.

Legal papers authorizing Wiles to take the swashbuckling film hero's body across the border were made out Thursday night, ending a dispute over funeral arrangements between Flynn's girl friend, Beverly Aadland, and his estranged wife, night club singer Pat Wymore. Miss Aadland flew to Los Angeles Friday.

Flynn, 50, died of a heart attack in a Vancouver apartment Wednesday night.

Wiles came here to take charge of the funeral arrangements. At Glendale, Calif., Miss Wymore said funeral services will be at 10 a.m. Monday in the Church of the Reformation at Forest Lawn Memorial Park. Interment at Forest Lawn will follow.

Nikita's Plan Challenged
WASHINGTON (AP) — The doctrine of peaceful coexistence advocated by Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev as offering a way out of the cold war was sharply challenged Friday by a U.S. spokesman.

The peoples of the world "are entitled to something better," Asst. Secretary of State Andrew H. Berding said.

CBS To Eliminate Quiz Shows

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP) — President Frank Stanton of the Columbia Broadcasting System, announced Friday all big-money quiz shows will be eliminated from his television network. He said the quiz show scandal has given all broadcasting a black eye.

Stanton made the announcement at a meeting here of the Radio Television News Directors Assn.

Stanton told a newsman the shows the network was considering dropping under his edict were "Name That Tune," "Top Dollar," and "The Big Pay Off." The network already has dropped its biggest quiz shows, in the wake of the rigging scandal.

The National Broadcasting Co. had no immediate comment on CBS' action. The American Broadcasting Co. said it was not affected, since it has no big-money shows in that category.

Stanton's announcement was the first industry reaction to a threat of government regulation of programming.

Seeks Regulation
Chairman Earl W. Kintner of the Federal Trade Commission, angry over testimony of rigged TV quiz shows, Thursday called on the industry to regulate itself or face government action.

"Millions of Americans were duped by what went on behind the scenes during the production of many of these quiz shows, and so were we," Stanton told the New Orleans gathering.

"We are now convinced that games whose major appeal is the winning by contestants of large sums of money or lavishly expensive prizes could not be carried on the CBS television network."

"The dangers inherent in such programs, as presently conceived, have been highlighted for all to see, and we do not believe that any system of policing, public or private, however carefully devised, can plug up all the possibilities for hanky-panky in the production of the programs."

A House committee, in hearings last week, elicited testimony that several now defunct big-money quiz shows were rigged, with some contestants receiving questions or answers in advance.

The committee concentrated its attention on NBC and such of its well-known shows as "Twenty-One". Then it recessed to Nov. 2.

School Holiday
SCRANTON (AP)—A crank or prankster's telephone warning that a bomb had been placed in West Scranton High School resulted in a day's vacation Friday for the school's 2,000 students.

Heart Attack Claims Life
SCRANTON (AP) — Michael Paff, 66, a retired West Scranton trucker, died Friday of a heart attack following an argument with his son-in-law.

Lackawanna County Coroner Dr. Paul E. Kubasko quoted the son-in-law, Melvin Sterling, 31, of Moosic, as saying that he went to Paff's house early Friday and the two argued. Sterling was quoted as saying that Paff suddenly keeled over and struck his head on a cupboard.

Survivors
The four survivors, all members of the B-52 crew, were listed as: Capt. William G. Gutshall, 36, commander, Aberdeen, Miss., formerly of Elizabethtown, Pa.

Capt. James W. Strother, 40, radar operator, Columbus AFB, where both planes were stationed. First Lt. Harold E. Helmick, 25, tanker navigator, Morgantown, W. Va.

Maj. Robert H. Imhoff, 44, KG-135 aircraft commander, Owosso, Mich.

First Lt. William E. Epling, 26, tanker co-pilot, Lake City, Fla. First Lt. Harold E. Helmick, 25, tanker navigator, Morgantown, W. Va.

Death Toll Reaches Eight In Air Crash
HARDINSBURG, Ky. (AP) — The Air Force Friday recovered its supersecret nuclear weapons from the wreckage of a B-52 bomber that collided with a flying tanker, killing eight of 12 crewmen.

The others bailed out after the crash that lit up the sky for more than 150 miles Thursday night.

Information that the bomber carried more than one nuclear device came from Lt. Gen. John R. McConnell, 2nd Air Force commander.

"The weapons remained intact," he said. "They did not explode or detonate. There was no danger of radiological effect."

One weapon was found in the wreckage of the bomber; another was located in a remote section of Kentucky, but the Air Force did not say where.

What caused the accident, first of its kind since the Strategic Air Command began around the clock refueling more than nine years ago?

"We can't tell whether the collision caused the explosion or the explosion caused the collision," said McConnell. He set up a board of inquiry to investigate.

The planes were on a routine training mission when they came together.

The dead were identified as: S. Sgt. Oaul E. Thomason, Columbus, Miss., Air Force Base.

Sunday School Lesson

Peter And John Are Two Main Disciples

By Newman Campbell

"NOW Peter and John went up together into the temple at the hour of prayer, being the ninth hour."—Acts 3:1.

The Rev. Dr. Wilbur M. Smith, editor and commentator of Peloubet's Select Notes, writes: "These are the two disciples who had been companions before the Pentecost, and were often together in the apostolic Church. They did not go up to the temple to offer a sacrifice, for all Christians had found Christ Himself to be the perfect and final sacrifice, but they did go at the hour of prayer."

They saw a lame man from birth who was carried daily (by his friends) and laid at the gate of the temple which is called Beautiful, to ask alms of them that entered into the temple."—Acts 3:2.

See Peter and John about to enter the temple, he asked alms from them. "And Peter, fastening his eyes upon him with John, said, Look on us, And he gave heed unto them, expecting to receive something of them.

"Then Peter said, Silver and gold have I none, but such as I have give I thee. In the name of Jesus Christ of Nazareth rise up and walk. And he took him by the right hand, and lifted him up; and immediately his feet and ankle bones received strength. And he leaping up stood, and walked, and entered with them into the temple, walking, and leaping, and praising God."—Acts 3:3-8.

All the people saw the man walking and praising God, and they were filled with wonder and amazement at that which had happened unto him. And as the lame man which was healed held Peter and John, all the people ran together unto them in the porch that is called Solomon's, greatly wondering."—Acts 3:9-11.

"And when Peter saw it, he answered unto the people, Ye men of Israel, why marvel ye at this? or why look ye so earnestly on us, as though ye our own power or holiness we had made this man to walk?"

"The God of Abraham, and of Isaac, and of Jacob, the God of our fathers, hath glorified His Son Jesus; whom ye delivered up, and denied Him in the presence of Pilate, when he was determined to let Him go.

"But ye denied the Holy One and the Just, and desired a murderer to be granted unto you; and killed the Prince of life, whom God hath raised from the dead; whereof we are witnesses. And His name hath made this man strong, whom ye see and know; yea, the faith which is by Him hath given him this perfect soundness in the presence of you all."—Acts 3:13-16.

"And now, brethren, I wot that through ignorance ye did it, as did also your rulers. But those things, which God before had shewed by the mouth of all His prophets, that Christ should suffer. He hath so fulfilled.

"Repent ye therefore, and be converted, that your sins may be blotted out, when the times of refreshing shall come from the presence of the Lord; and He shall send Jesus Christ, which before was preached unto you; Whom the heaven must receive until the times of restitution of all things, which God hath spoken by the mouth of all His holy prophets since the world began."—Acts 3:17-21.

"Ye are the children of the prophets, and of the covenant which God made with our fathers, saying unto Abraham, And in thy seed shall all the kindreds of the earth be blessed. Unto you first God, having raised up His Son Jesus, sent Him to bless you, in turning away every one of you from his iniquities."—Acts 3:25-26.

Dr. Wilbur M. Smith quotes from the writings of the late Donald Fraser (1826-1892): "It is through His name—the name of the once humbled and now glorified Servant of God that this man has been cured, said Peter; and it is by faith in that same Name, that He has that appropriated the blessing and strength which he now exhibits. The complete cure that had been accomplished was plain for all to see. . . . The man had availed himself of this power by the exercise of faith, which God hath spoken by the mouth of all His holy prophets since the world began."—Acts 3:13-21.

All the classes might be asked about the pains they have suffered from illness or accident. "One cannot ignore pain, disease or fever. Jesus did not ignore it. He healed multitudes. The early church did not ignore it, and in our lesson we have an illustration of a miracle of healing. One of the great areas of Christian missionary activity is what is known as medical missions. It is the Christian Church that has introduced real healing to millions (in far off lands) who would otherwise have died of their diseases," Dr. Smith points out.

Healing of the lame man by Peter.

"Silver and gold have I none; but such as I have give I thee."—Acts 3:6.

What can we do to help? We cannot perform miracles, but we can support our missions, and if, like Peter, we have no money, we can help our friends and neighbors who are ill or in trouble in many ways. Let us pray to Christ to show us the way.

Laymen's Service Sunday At Presbyterian Churches

'YOU ARE Called' will be the theme of Elder Tom Willis' message at tomorrow morning's observance of Laymen's Day Sunday at the Middle Smithfield and Shawnee Presbyterian Churches.

Willis an elder in the Elmwood Presbyterian Church of East Orange, N. J., in the Morris and Orange Presbyteries. He is well known as a lay speaker.

A number of laymen from each of the local churches will also take part in the various parts of the worship service. The service at the Middle Smithfield Church will be conducted at 9:45 a.m., with the worship service at Shawnee Church held at 11:15 a.m.

It will also be Harvest-Home Sunday in both churches with members and friends giving of their personal food items to help others.

The Sunday School will meet at 10 a.m. at the Shawnee Church. The Middle Smithfield Sunday School will meet at 10:50 a.m. with a special missionary program. Miss Florence Mikes, from Tanganyika Territory, East Africa, will show pictures and tell about her work.

The Youth Fellowship of the churches will meet on Sunday evening at 7:00 p.m. at the Shawnee Church. The topic of the evening, 'What Is Prayer?' will be led by Mrs. Helen Heller.

The monthly meeting of the Board of Trustees of the Middle Smithfield Church will be held on Monday evening at 7:30 p.m. at the Church.

On Tuesday evening at 8 p.m. the Women's Auxiliary will meet at the Church for the monthly meeting with Mrs. Janet Richards, president, presiding over the business meeting. Mrs. Norman Koehler will speak and show pictures of her work in Japan.

The Board of Deacons of the Middle Smithfield Church will meet on Wednesday evening at 8 p.m. at the Church.

Fellowship To Begin Laymen Day

MOUNTAINHOME — Laymen's Day will be observed at Mountainhome Methodist Church tomorrow, beginning with a coffee fellowship at 7 a.m.

Breakfast will be served the group at 7:15 a.m. under supervision of Paul Reisenwitz. Dr. Edmund Magan, charge lay leader John Nauman, chairman of the Ushers' Assn., and Rev. John Carter, pastor, will greet the group.

Warren Miller, lay speaker, will have as his theme, "You Have Been Called" at the 8:30 a.m. service. Assisting will be John Wilson, worship leader; Dr. Magan, responsive reading; John George, scripture; and John Sengle, morning prayer. They will also be in charge of the 10:45 a.m. service.

Ushers will be Capt. Gordon Shaller, Donald Shepard and David Shaller for the 8:30 a.m. service and Capt. Alfred Mutchler, Paul Reisenwitz, John Nauman and Gordon Hale, at 10:45 a.m. The nursery for pre-school children will be in charge of Mrs. Elwood Johnson.

Senior Youth Fellowship will hold a covered dish supper at Canadensis Methodist Church at 6:30 p.m.

Homecoming Service

GILBERT — Salem United Church of Christ will observe the annual homecoming at the 10:30 a.m. service tomorrow, according to Rev. Mark B. Michael,

St. John's Lutheran Sets Two Services For Tomorrow

ST. JOHN'S LUTHERAN CHURCH will hold two worship services tomorrow morning, at 8:30 and 11 a.m.

Rev. Charles H. Ruloff, pastor, will preach at both services. The altar flowers will be provided by Mrs. Hal Harris in loving memory of her mother, Mrs. Frances Shafer. John Bayler, John A. Kitchen, George Frantz and Clarence S. Kitchen are the ushers at the early service. George Steinhauer, William Stout, Edwin Buck and Mark Altemose will usher at the later service. Jeffrey Fredenberg and Raymond Rinker will be the acolytes at 8:30 and 11 o'clock, respectively.

John Dunkelberger and Mark Altemose are the official "Greeters" for the month of October. Miss Charleen Widmer and a friend will be in charge of the nursery for pre-school-age children from 10:50 o'clock until the end of the 11 a.m. service.

The Chancel Choir, under the direction of Richard Lindroth, will sing.

The infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Miller, Jr., 502 Lindbergh Avenue, will receive the Sacrament of Infant Baptism at the 11 a.m. service. Also at this service, Edwin E. Buck will give a short talk on a program of the church, "Fellowship Life Advance Now" or "PLAN" which St. John's is undertaking. Last Sunday, Alfred Munson presented the initial talk about this project.

The Altar Guild will have as their guests, the members of United Lutheran Women, at their regular meeting at 8 p.m. in the church social rooms. An interesting program is being prepared. All members are urged to be present.

The Luther League meets tomorrow evening at 6:30.

CROSSROADS

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Day	Book	Chapter	Verses
Sunday	Proverbs	15	12
Monday	Deuteronomy	19	9-10
Tuesday	Psalms	67	1-2
Wednesday	Psalms	119	5-6
Thursday	I Timothy	1	8-9
Friday	Hebrews	10	22-23
Saturday	Mark	1	16-18

Here's what happens when four super-highways meet—a far cry from that simple "plus mark" we used to call an intersection!

Life is becoming more complex, isn't it? No longer is it simply a matter of finding the right road. Today you can't even get on the right road until you find the right approach. And you had better be mighty sure of the direction you want to go, or you'll find yourself speeding away from your destination on a turnpike that permits no U-turn.

As life has become more complex, the value of a deep abiding religious conviction has become more evident. Against a background of confusion and uncertainty the confident assurance of Christian faith is sharply silhouetted.

And the millions who have turned to the Church for truth and guidance have made a thrilling discovery. The Way of Christ is still just as clear, direct, and inspiring as it was to those who heard it first by the Galilean road.

Salute To Newspaperboys

No observance of National Newspaper Week would be complete without proper tribute to the "young merchants" who distribute our newspapers faithfully, honestly and courteously in all kinds of weather throughout the year.

Today has been set aside as National Newspaperboy Day and the date has been proclaimed by both President Eisenhower and Governor Lawrence.

The day serves to call attention to one of the finest examples of our American youth. It offers citizens occasion to salute the fine young men who bring the news of the day to our doorsteps.

Newspaperboys stand in the spotlight of American youth, because they have already established themselves as an integral part of our great system of free enterprise.

They are learning, through on-the-job training, the important basic principles of business. They are proud examples of the youth from which our leaders of tomorrow will come.

All parents would like to see their sons grow up with these characteristics: good character, a sense of responsibility, initiative, thrift and a pleasing personality.

Some of these characteristics need activities other than the boy finds at home, church, school and play if they are to be developed.

The advantages of putting spare time to good use were learned early in life by most of today's successful leaders in business, industry and the professions. For many of these same people, the job of passing newspapers launched them on their careers.

The newspaperboy masters the art of meeting and dealing with people of every type. He acquires efficiency and self assurance. And he learns the value of money while he is still young.

As these newspaperboys earn and learn, they perform a very important function for the newspapers and their readers. It is appropriate, therefore, that the day be set aside to salute the young men who have served all of us so well all through the year.

'I Am Definitely Not A Candidate!'

George Sokolsky Says...

New Colonialism

In the remarkable television discussion last August between President Eisenhower and Prime Minister Macmillan, the Prime Minister raised the question of colonialism and what he said on that occasion takes on a fresh meaning because of his outstanding victory in last week's election. He said:

"... Now I know what colonialism means to Americans, because my mother was American. It means the Boston Tea Party and George III and all that. But colonialism had a good side, too. And now we are changing the old Empire into the new Commonwealth."

"We've got a lot of problems ahead of us still in Africa and so forth, but we will solve them. And you have only to look round and see what is happening — India, Pakistan, Ceylon, Ghana, Malaysia, Nigeria soon, West Indies."

"It's the road on which we are traveling, and it isn't a sign of weakness, it's a sign of strength. Don't let anyone in America think it's the sun setting on the British Empire, it's the dawn rising on the new Commonwealth, and it's all part of the same story."

When the United Nations was formed, the General Assembly consisted of 51 nations; this has now been increased to 82 nations. We are living in an era of national proliferation. And each country regards itself as sovereign, significant, important.

Many of these nations cannot support themselves on a modern basis and are being assisted by other powers. It is probable that votes in the General Assembly of the United Nations are, if one will pardon the vulgarism of the expression, for sale, in the sense that they are cast in favor of that power whence comes aid or where there is expectation of support. It is a sort of diplomatic back-scratching.

While the fragmentation of Empire continues and new states are being born, a contrary movement emanates from Soviet Russia and Red China. They have, in fact, entered upon a career of intensive imperialism.

Soviet Russia has absorbed imperialistically in Europe alone Latvia, Estonia, Lithuania, Poland, Czechoslovakia, Hungary, Rumania, Bulgaria, Albania and East Germany.

When Hungary attempted to establish its independence, it was wracked by Khrushchev's armies and all the so-called satellites were taught by unmeasured brutality to behave according to the Kremlin's code.

It is not likely that any of these countries will soon risk an uprising. Soviet Russia is not expanding in Europe, but is moving into Central Asia.

Red China's imperialism has to do with the filling out of the Chien Lung line, that is, the farthest extent of the Chinese Empire during the Manchu dynasty. This includes parts of India and there conflict has already asserted itself.

In Tibet, Red China has put down the theocracy of the Dalai Lama with characteristic brutality. Already one province of India, Kerala, is Communist and Red Chinese troops have marched into Ladakh, Sikkim and Bhutan; they are expected to attempt forays into Nepal, Assam and parts of Burma. The conquest of India could lead to World War III. Pakistan is a member of SEATO and we would be required by treaty to go to war in Pakistan's defense. India is a member of the Commonwealth and if India called on Great Britain for aid, the British would be morally bound to come to the rescue, as would Pakistan and Ceylon. And the United States would not be able to stay out.

So whereas the Western Powers, as Prime Minister Macmillan said, are abandoning imperialism for a co-operative commonwealth of free peoples, a pattern which France is, in a measure, following after its own fashion, Soviet Russia and Red China are building Empire.

What is so interesting is that to every question concerning this, Khrushchev, in effect, replied coarsely, "Mind your own business," or as they would say in the area where he was reared, "Keep your nose out of my pot."

Khrushchev, the harbinger of peace, who stood before the United Nations, a veritable Micah, telling the world what to do about its swords, has been unable or he did not really try to get Red China to adopt his program of peace.

What will he say if during a Summit Conference, Mao Tse-tung explodes the whole of Asia into war? Will Khrushchev call Mao an imperialist and join the West in putting him in his place?

That will be the test. The show season was made official by Noel Coward writing the first shot at critics. He is quoted: "I'm not at war with the critics, although for years they've been at war with me." ... A critic's estimation of his sense of justice is rarely shared by his targets. No people are as human as creative artists — and nothing seems so inhuman to them as a sour notice. Critics are never neutral. Their primary function is to convey an honest opinion. Honesty compels them to occasionally scorn the efforts of creative artists. And scorn-in-kind is a lethal weapon.

Since history is the composite of numerous biographies, it is always fascinating to spot the human factors which have an enormous effect on the course of history. ... William L. Laurence's new book, "Men and Atoms," discloses that Albert Einstein's famous letter to FDR (about the atom bomb) gathered dust for three years. The tome's most startling revelation: We got the A-bomb by mistake!

With Walter Winchell On Broadway

Notes of a Newspaperman
National Newspaper Week offers another opportunity to salute the most exciting profession: Headlines. Express history rather abruptly. Black fragments of a classic serial. It is the function of the reporter to report the magnificent and grotesque panorama of events. The ironies and tragedies. The triumphs and festivals. National calamities, international debates, personal misfortune. Murder ignited by a flash of gunfire, the horror of potential nuclear destruction the hypocrisy of diplomacy and the lunacy of certain political ideologies. Reporters, editors and publishers work and ponder and write. They must be Solomon and Shakespeare and beat the deadline. Nevertheless, every free newspaperman strives for one goal: To report the truth. The pursuit of that objective is a noble, exciting experience. This reporter has always taken great pride in being a newspaperman. For no man can do more than try to tell the truth.

Dig deep enough into the dirt of the quiz show mess and you'll discover the motivation for the skulduggery. It is not just greed—or stupidity. Primarily, the problem is the almost insane drive to win high ratings. A drive coupled with the immoral idea that the end justifies the means. Consequently, many producers and execs are not concerned with what is right or wrong, good or bad. Their problem is simple: Are the ratings high or low? ... Incredibly, at one time, twelve's most popular entertainment—was dishonesty.

The foregoing reminds us of Time magazine's report several months ago: "The most eloquent, hard-hitting critics of the ratings are the services themselves—when speaking of their competitors. Nielsen, for example, argues that human error, bias and forgetfulness work against the accuracy of the others' methods. He says also that their samples are usually unreliable. In special surveys, he has tested the accuracy of the others' methods by the yardstick of his own and says that all three fall wide of the mark." Of course, Nielsen's competitors disagree—and also rap each other's techniques.

Are ratings rigged???

The show season was made official by Noel Coward writing the first shot at critics. He is quoted: "I'm not at war with the critics, although for years they've been at war with me." ... A critic's estimation of his sense of justice is rarely shared by his targets. No people are as human as creative artists — and nothing seems so inhuman to them as a sour notice. Critics are never neutral. Their primary function is to convey an honest opinion. Honesty compels them to occasionally scorn the efforts of creative artists. And scorn-in-kind is a lethal weapon.

Since history is the composite of numerous biographies, it is always fascinating to spot the human factors which have an enormous effect on the course of history. ... William L. Laurence's new book, "Men and Atoms," discloses that Albert Einstein's famous letter to FDR (about the atom bomb) gathered dust for three years. The tome's most startling revelation: We got the A-bomb by mistake!

Jim Riley Says:

Elephant, Camel Visit In Scotrun

There was a circus at Scotrun on Thursday of this week. Well—it wasn't actually a circus. But, there was an elephant and a camel—a blind camel at that.

The two animals were passengers on a truck that broke down in the Blakeslee area on Thursday morning. The truck was towed into De Haven's Garage, where labor was required on the motor.

It took one man of the De Haven force to keep the elephant supplied with water throughout the day, while the camel caused more than one startled person to jump by breaking out with a loud noise.

Children from all over the area flocked to the garage to see the "two animals" that aren't common in Monroe County to say the least.

On Thursday night a car pulled into the garage and a lady asked to use rest rooms. As she was passing by the elephant trumpeted, scaring the woman out of her wits.

After the trumpet the trip to the rest room seemed quite unnecessary. The elephant and camel were scheduled to appear in a small circus in New York at 94th St. during the present weekend.

While the mechanics worked, the elephant and camel spent most of the time munching hay.

The Queens Village Camera Club, of Queens Village, L. I., will visit in the Poconos this weekend.

The 35 members will stay at Vacation Valley. Igine DelVecchio, former East Stroudsburg resident is now a member of the club.

Charley Brock, chief of the Mount Pocono Fire Department, recently announced that a new fire school will open quite soon.

An invitation has been sent to all hotel managers to send certain employees to the school.

An ounce of fire prevention is worth a pound of insurance —so my informant said.

John Valence, well known Monroe County photographer, is one of those individuals who doesn't lose any time.

Although still on crutches as the result of an automobile accident, John is out almost daily taking pictures of the foliage and Fall scenes of his customers.

John recently became the father of a baby daughter. Child and mother, Pat Valence, are doing fine.

The Allen-Scott Report

By Robert S. Allen and Paul Scott
Washington — President Eisenhower is looking for a new ambassador to Russia.

Ambassador Llewellyn Thompson, who has headed the Moscow embassy since June 1957, is being assigned to another post.

The distinguished career diplomat, who has been in the U. S. since Premier Khrushchev's recent visit, is returning to Russia later this month to conclude his mission there.

A major difficulty in replacing Thompson is the language problem.

Few senior American diplomats are well versed in Russian. Foremost among them are Thompson and his predecessor, Ambassador Charles Bohlen. The latter is now enroute from the Philippines to become special State Department assistant on Soviet affairs.

Secretary Herter has already consulted Bohlen on a successor to Thompson.

Both the White House and State Department stress that this change is not due to dissatisfaction with Thompson. He is highly regarded by both the President and Secretary Herter, and his new assignment will clearly demonstrate that.

It is explained a new ambassador is desired in Moscow because of the conviction that will facilitate the various negotiations expected to develop as a result of Khrushchev's trip here. It is felt that the hoped-for "new climate" calls for a change in diplomatic representation.

Apparently, the Kremlin is also thinking along that line. According to authoritative sources, Ambassador Mikhail Menshikov will leave Washington to become a high Foreign Office official.

Iraq Caudron — A lot more blood will be spilled in Iraq —and it can happen any moment.

The situation there is as explosive as an armed hand grenade. Conditions will get a lot worse before they get better. Also, it is still tough.

And So It Shall Be

Dear Abby: Why is it assumed by city folks that we people who live on farms can take on the responsibility of an unlimited number of discarded pets?

In the 14 years that we've lived on a farm, we've had over 300 dogs and cats (usually approaching motherhood) deliberately dropped off on our property.

We have kept some, given some to friends, nursed back to health those that were ailing—but there is a limit.

Some people have even abandoned sick animals who were so far gone that we have had to carry them to the vet's to have them mercifully put out of their misery. We have had it! How can we put a stop to this endless chain of cast-offs?

FARMER'S WIFE.

Dear Wife: You can't. City folks will always "deliberately drop off" unwanted pets on the property of farmers because they know that people like you live on farms. They shouldn't do it—but they will.

Dear Abby: What does it mean when a boy bites the tip of your ear?

BERNICE.

Dear Bernice: It means he is either teething or would like to know you better.

Dear Abby: I am going with a swell kid. He looks kind of hoody but he isn't that way at all. He used to be wild, but he's changed. He was thrown out of school because he kicked a teacher in the cafeteria. I talked to his mother yesterday

Being Relaxed At The Wheel

Have you noticed how relaxation is increasingly the key to driving on our streets and highways these days?

For a long time, the big thing has been to keep just the right hand on the wheel, with the left sort of holding up the car roof, as if it were about collapse. It's still a great favorite with those who think comfort is more important than safety.

But we've gone well beyond that.

Lately you'll see more and more motorists with the left arm dangling loosely down the car, suggesting near exhaustion.

Another great relaxer is to keep a couple of the left hand fingers on the wheel and spread the right arm across the top of the front seat. Almost as comfortable as a sofa.

You can go still further in search of rest at the wheel. Let the left arm hold up the roof or dangle outside, and drape the right over the wheel, with just the wrist in contact. At 50 or 60 miles an hour, the wrist does the driving. This is getting to be very popular.

There's just one way to find more relaxation than this, and it's a way many comfort-happy drivers are likely to discover. They can be stretched out—in perfect rest and repose—in the morgue.—Bristol Courier.

Reports From Congress

Lobby Rules Alarm Groups

By Congressional Quarterly
Washington — Newly proposed tax rules regarding lobbying are sending shivers through national trade organizations.

They fear that the Internal Revenue Service proposals would discourage members from making the contributions which finance organizational activities.

The proposed rules were published Sept. 19 in the Federal Register, the official Government publication which alerts the public to contemplated tax regulations. The regulations are the Internal Revenue Service's interpretation of the tax laws passed by Congress.

At present, the Internal Revenue Service is working under a regulation that says

"sums of money expended for lobbying purposes, the promotion or defeat of legislation, the exploitation of propaganda, including advertising other than trade advertising, and contributions for campaign expenses, are not deductible from gross income." This rule has been in force since 1919.

Supreme Court Decision — The Supreme Court Feb. 24, 1959 upheld an IRS ruling that the 1919 regulation outlawed tax deductions for industry-wide campaigns against legislation considered harmful to business. The court said: "We think that the regulations must be construed to mean what they say — that not only lobbying expenses but also sums spent for the promotion or defeat of legislation, the exploitation of propaganda, including advertising other than trade advertising are non-deductible."

As for the claim that denying tax deductions for such campaigns violated the First Amendment, the court said: "Petitioners are not being denied a tax deduction because they engage in constitutionally protected activities, but are simply being required to pay for those activities entirely out of their own pockets as everyone else engaged in similar activities is required to do."

The proposed regulations are largely an explanation of how the Internal Revenue Service interprets its 1919 regulation.

The IRS says it would not allow tax deductions for ads explaining an industry's viewpoint on pending legislation nor dues to trade organizations "if a substantial part of the organization's activities" consisted of those described in the 1919 regulation.

The Chamber of Commerce of the U.S. recently wrote its members that "this form of censorship by taxation poses a serious problem for all business men." The American Newspaper Publishers Assn. fears the ruling would cut down on newspaper ads on public issues.

The proposed regulations do state that deductions would be allowed for "advertising which presents views on economic, financial, social or other subjects of a general nature," as long as the advertising did not constitute the activities described in the 1919 regulation. Spokesmen for business groups said the leeway in this rule would depend on how the Internal Revenue Service defined lobbying.

Incode Panel Traces History Of Delaware River

Two-Day Session Ends At Manor

POCONO MANOR—The two-day session of the Interstate Commission on the Delaware River (Incode) wound up at noon yesterday with the closing session being a panel discussion. Members of the panel discussing the subject "Where Do We Go from Here?" were Charles R. Bensinger, president of the Water Resources Ass'n.; Francis A. Pitkin, chairman of Incode; Edward Hopkinson, Jr., president of the Water Resources Foundation, and, substituting for John P. Robin who was ill, Walter Phillips, of the Delaware River Basin Advisory Committee.

All four speakers traced the recent history of the movement to conserve the water resources of the river, and gave ideas to help further the Incode movement beyond the planning stage.

Phillips traced the origin of the Advisory Board and stated it was set up to give information on Incode to the interested parties.

Hopkinson said the Water Resources Foundation was created to supplement the work of the Army Engineers, and also to handle all funds for research.

The Water Resources Ass'n., Bensinger said, handles the transmission of information about the Delaware River and the basin to citizens from all points of the river basin.

Following the talk by Pitkin, on the history of Incode and reviewing its accomplishments for the period, a question and answer period was held as well as a general discussion.

County Resident Co-Pilot On Fast Flights Over Ocean

AN EAST STROUDSBURG RD resident this week proved what most of us have known right along—it's a small world. Walter Hoffman, a co-pilot with Pan American World Airways, made a round trip flight from New York City to Paris and Rome in approximately 45 minutes.

Actual flight time for the Boeing 707 jet on which he was co-pilot was about 16 hours.

Goose Bay
The flight left New York City and flew non-stop to Paris, then to Rome. On the return trip, a stop was made at Goose Bay, Labrador.

Hoffman explained the extra stop on the return trip by saying that Le Bourget Field in Paris does not have runways long enough to permit the plane to take off with a full load of fuel.

Hoffman was a member of the crew of a plane which crashed landed on foam covered runways at Idlewild Airport, New York, several months ago.

on National Newspaperboy Day

We Salute Your NEWSPAPERBOY

The 600,000 young men who deliver newspapers every day to the homes of America are proof that "busy boys are better boys".

And we believe the outstanding job which the "Junior Independent Merchants" in our own organization are doing deserves this special recognition.

If you feel that the young man who delivers your newspaper is doing a fine job, please take just a minute to tell him so the next time he calls. He will appreciate it and try harder than ever to please you and your family.

No where else can today's youngster learn so well the importance of promptness, courtesy, salesmanship and bookkeeping—as well as poise and self-confidence which helps develop a winning personality.

The cash profit which he makes is important and many youngsters are today earning a substantial part of the money they will need to go to college or trade school later on.

That's why so many employers—when they have a job with a future—look for a man who received his first business training as a newspaperboy.

We know...many of our own executives got their start that way.

working on camping technique for the Colorado Springs Round-up under the direction of their leader, Mrs. Harrison Place. In the foreground, left to right, Bernadine Walker, Kay Smith, Chloe Richards; background, same order, Doris Transue, Patsy Reilly, Joan Place, Mrs. Harrison Place and June Tollison. ## Faith Of Our Fathers Panel Theme

The Jacob Stroud Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution will devote its meeting on Monday to a panel discussion, "Viewing the Faith of Our Fathers". Taking part will be Earl Goner, superintendent of the Stroud Union School District; Rev. Harold C. Eaton, minister of the East Stroudsburg Methodist Church; and Mrs. Wendell Wicks.

The meeting will begin with dessert at 1:15 at the Stroud Community House. There will be an executive meeting following the regular meeting.

Republican Women Meet Candidates

County Republican candidates met with the Monroe County Council of Republican Women to explain the work of the office and their qualifications in a pre-election rally at the Penn-Stroud Hotel.

Introduced by Gerald Snyder, county chairman, candidates present included Edward Kravitz, for district attorney; C. A. "Phyz" Nauman and Stanley Rader for county commissioner; Jeannette Batory, register and recorder; Clarence Rutt, prothonotary; Mrs. Eva Taylor and George Graff, associate judge; Mary Emma Garcia, auditor; Mrs. Olive Breen, second candidate was not able to be present.

Mrs. Foster Minnich explained the three amendments on which voters will be balloting in November and urged members to study the provisions of these amendments and to be prepared to vote on them.

Mrs. W. Adolph Rake, president, reminded members of the essay contest "Why I Am A Republican" sponsored by the state council which must be postmarked no later than this Saturday. She also urged members to make reservations for the state convention to be held in Harrisburg November 15, 16 and 17.

Several new members were welcomed. Tea was served at a table decorated with flowers from Herbert Kistler's garden, arranged by Mrs. Kistler who was assisted on the hostess committee by Mrs. R. C. Cramer, Mrs. Lester Cramer and Mrs. John Becker.

OPEN DOOR to understanding through learning a foreign language in the lower grades was theme of the Morey PTA meeting this week. Here Jimmy Bowers and Corinne Taylor seem quite willing to step through the language barrier. (Photo By Lawrence Studio)

Pros-Cons Of Language In Grades Studied By PTA

Gilbert Dunning in his discussion on "Foreign Language in Elementary Education" at the Morey Parent Teachers Assn.'s October meeting involved the entire group in an oral demonstration of conversational French.

"It has been proven," Mr. Dunning said, "that the learning of sound patterns comes most naturally at an early age when children learn sound before the printed symbols. Since the first need of speech is for communications, the controversial learning of a language has greater motivation than the textual and grammatical approach influenced by classical methods."

"School experiences in foreign language in elementary grades should be as natural as possible and contain no reading or writing pressures," he said. However, he also warned that certain points must be seriously considered before a foreign language could be instituted:

1. There must be continuity of the program through elementary and secondary schools;
2. There must be an established need for the children since not all children benefit from foreign language study;
3. Foreign languages must never be taught at the expense of academic subjects, so the time must be available.
4. The community must be willing to support the cost of a continuing program.

The school lunchroom was decorated with French travel posters, Gauguin prints and maps of French cities. Dunning exhibited a model of the Eiffel Tower and French place mats and Mrs. Clyde Burke a French doll.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. William Taylor and her committee. Mrs. Grace Heitler, school nurse, explained the sight and hearing examinations to be given soon to all school children.

During the business meeting with Mrs. R. D. Everitt presiding, the members voted a school improvement project to begin with the faculty lunch room. They also voted that the PTA go on record as approving the continuance of Bible reading in the school.

Mrs. Douglas Greene, membership chairman, outlined plans for total membership drive, including a poster for each classroom to be completed as each family joins. The prize for the highest attendance at the meeting this week was won by Mrs. Rough's second grade.

An open house will be held in November, Mrs. J. Joseph McCuskey announced.

Just Between Us

—by Bobby Westbrook

You make better news than anybody. The thought came to me in the midst of all the hurly-burly of trying to get away early on a Friday for a weekend all my own.

Of course you'll have to admit that house never seems so desirable as when you've put it up for sale, or a party never so gay as when you have to leave early, so maybe you'd better discount some of my enthusiasm for you as generated by the thought that I'll be safely out of reach of the telephone for a whole weekend.

But you do make good news. Our Girl Scouts make the national Girl Scout Calendar. Our PTA's make news that is worthy of the National PTA magazine. The Business Women make $300 on their booth and learn about the stockmarket and plan to sponsor the Mothers March, all in one meeting.

The church women and political groups are making news in their own field and besides we keep on having weddings and birthdays and things. The weekend here is going to be a busy and, I hope, happy one for all of you.

But I'm not trading. A football game, a family reunion, and my son's 21st birthday are too good to miss. And if I worry about all the equally good news which didn't get in the paper this morning, it won't be until I'm on my way home. I'm going to enjoy the glow of pride in you until the last minute.

Come Monday morning, we'll probably all be members of a mutual "I hate everybody" club.

Let's Give Enough

Wyckoff
Shopper

Love that Muzak, as heard here in our Wyckoff store! Right now the selection is "Button Up Your Overcoat"—a number popular in the thirties, when I was having my first serious excursion into "puppy love." There isn't a day Muzak doesn't resurrect an old memory or two for almost everyone who listens. Come in and hear for yourself someday! . . . It is my considered opinion that all corset salesmen are handsome. Don't ask me why—just visit our Wyckoff corset department once in awhile and see for yourself. (After that, it should be easy for our personnel department to secure corset saleswomen whenever the need arises. The one drawback is that I've NEVER met an unmarried corset salesman!) . . . One of the most recent visitors to our corset department was Norman Kegan, sales representative for Rivoli, creator of the Whirl-Eze PROGRESS. He tells me this girdle is just as popular everywhere as it is right here at Wyckoff's, and that my articles are being used to verify the salesman's statements about Progress comfort and efficiency. He also had some interesting stories about the company's history, and informs me that the Harry Katz who wrote us about The Wyckoff Shopper column is not just "an executive," as I said, but the owner—a man who began as a salesman years ago and rose steadily and dramatically to his present position of importance in the foundationwear industry . . . It was exciting to receive a card from Weatherly, from a gentleman listener to WVPO who heard our radio program about the Travel Bureau's forthcoming trip to Hawaii, and desired additional information . . . It was a strange feeling to stop on the outskirts of Philadelphia the other morning, and hear myself speaking from the car radio, interviewing the Rev. Wellesley W. Devitt, M.C., about his work in Africa. Hear him tomorrow at the Baptist Church in East Stroudsburg . . . Violet Jones, wife of Dr. Frederick Jones, was talking with me one recent day about a radio program which had a controversial theme. "I recently heard an address," she told me, "in which the speaker said, 'Remember, even a turtle cannot make progress without sticking its neck out.' Seems to me this is worth remembering . . . I was happy too for the visit of Mrs. Elwood Hintze who enjoyed our tape recording of the round-table honoring Cullen Yates, made during a retrospective show of his work which opened last Sunday night at Pocono Art Center. "I have always wondered when this type of tribute would be paid him," Mrs. Hintze commented. "Certainly he deserves it, and was a wonderful man as well as a distinguished artist." Mrs. Hintze also suggested I play the tape of Mrs. Frank Patterson's report on the work of the Governor's committee for Youth. This will be done if WVPO still has the tape at hand—certainly too much cannot be said in matters pertaining to young people, their progress and their problems.

Candidates At Democratic Club Supper

A covered dish supper, buffet style, opened Candidates Night of the Women's Democratic Club of Monroe County at the Stroud Community House this week. Mrs. Mary Jones was hostess chairman. Mrs. Wilma Roganilski introduced the candidates who spoke briefly.

John Brislin, county chairman, spoke on the merits of those candidates for office and the importance of an all-out vote in November.

The White Donkey sale was conducted by Wayne Posten and his daughter, Maude.

The Annual Monroe County Democratic Dinner will be held at the Armory on October 29 when United States Senator Joseph Clarke will speak.

Two Children To Be Baptized

Hazel Elizabeth Slack, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph L. Slack of 75 Ridgeway Street, East Stroudsburg, will be baptized at 12:15 o'clock on Sunday afternoon in Grace Evangelical Lutheran Church, East Stroudsburg. Hazel was born on June 10, 1959 in the General Hospital and her mother was the former Madeline Solida. The parents will serve as baptismal sponsors.

At 1 o'clock on Sunday afternoon David John Stoudt, infant son of Dr. and Mrs. Ralph E. Stoudt of 97 Ridgeway Street, East Stroudsburg, will be baptized. David was born on January 29, 1958 in the Norfolk General Hospital, Norfolk, Va. His mother was the former Mary Lu Kuntz. Miss Rebecca Kuntz, maternal aunt of David, and John M. Stoudt, paternal uncle, will serve as baptismal sponsors.

Women Own More Stock, BPW Learns; Booth Nets $300; Mothers March Set

Women own 53 per cent of the outstanding shares of stock in this country, members of the Stroudsburg Business and Professional Women's Club were told by Carl Titus, a member of the U. S. Stock Exchange, at their meeting on Thursday night at the Penn-Stroud Hotel.

Titus, manager of Carl M. Loeb Rhodes Co. local office, was presented by the finance and public affairs committees of the club of which Mrs. Aura Miller and Mrs. Hilda LaBar are chairmen. He traced the beginning of "trading from the early Dutch in Holland who sat in coffee houses offering to the highest bidder consignments of tea, sugar, spices and other commodities to the present procedure in buying and selling securities through Stock Exchanges.

One out of every eight adults own stocks, he said. Those in the $5,000 to $10,000 income class make up 50 per cent of the stockholders in the country with women far outnumbering men in such holdings. There are four million housewives who own stocks, he said.

Members were particularly interested in Titus' explanation of the Monthly Investment Plan as a steady way to purchase stocks and build up investments. The plan is a fairly recent one.

Dorothy Storms presided at the business meeting which followed. Elsie Logan was welcomed by David's parents.

The sacrament will be administered by Rev. William F. Wunder, Grace Church pastor.

Civil Defense Program For Arlington PTA

The program of the Arlington Heights Parent-Teachers Assn. centered around Civil Defense this week with Mrs. Catherine Miller explaining the duties of her office in Civil Defense and showing a film, "The Day Called X", and John Cruse explaining the Civil Defense organization in Stroud township of which he is chairman.

A discussion on "Fall-out" followed the program. During the business meeting Mrs. Marilyn McFarland was named chairman of the card table project with the proceeds to go for playground equipment. Mrs. Joyce Murray, assistant athletic director for elementary schools, spoke on equipment needed.

The PTA members approved recommendations of the executive board.

A request was made for mothers of second, third and fourth grade girls to become workers in organizing a Brownie Troop at the school. They may call Mrs. Robert Stem HA 1-2634.

Refreshments were served by the hospitality committee with Mrs. Fred Clark Jr., chairman, assisted by members of the executive committee.

YOU HOLD YOUR MOST IMPORTANT FREEDOM IN YOUR HANDS...

...WHEN YOU READ YOUR FAVORITE NEWSPAPER

"Congress shall make no law . . . abridging the freedom of speech, or of the press," says the first amendment to the Constitution. Today, as in Colonial times, freedom of the press remains inherent to our democratic way of life. It means we, as citizens of these fifty United States, are entitled to objective, informative news about the world we live in. Without information and without communication through our newspapers, our knowledge and our very existence would be threatened. In order to form intelligent opinions, in order to make our democracy work, we must not overlook this fundamental freedom. We must take it upon ourselves as our civic duty to remain well informed about world events, about our government, about public matters. As the world becomes smaller and the times more complex, we must know. And, we can only intelligently inform ourselves, we can only know, when we read our newspapers. So remember, during this, our National Newspaper Week, as well as every week during the year, "you hold your most important freedom in your hands when you read your favorite newspaper."

You can buy this lovely home for only $15,000

We built this house on one of the nicest lots in East Stroudsburg six years ago. We lived in it for three years and then had to move to Oneonta, N. Y.

We liked the idea of going to Oneonta but we sure hated to leave this comfortable home. Everything about it meant home comfort. My wife was crazy about the automatic dishwasher in the kitchen sink. (Even I liked to do the dishes in this home. The utility room just off the kitchen is convenient too.)

We used to like to sit in the spacious living room with a fire in the fireplace on a brisk winter evening. The wall-to-wall carpet throughout the living room, dining room and hall added to the warmth and comfort too.

A modern bathroom and three nice large bedrooms with spacious closet space added still more to our comfort.

Then outside we got a great deal of pleasure from the patio in the front and back of the house. A good size garage can be reached from a walk from the rear patio. The lawn and shrubbery add to the beauty of the home. And, the view from this property is one of the finest you'll see. It overlooks the East Stroudsburg Memorial Stadium and the home is located only two blocks from the new East Stroudsburg High School.

The house is heated with oil in a forced hot air furnace and we spent approximately $150.00 a year to heat it. The taxes are low, too. Even since the new assessment they are not exorbitant.

Someone is going to get this place at a real price. We have several thousand dollars more in the home than we are now asking for it. But we must sell it now.

The home will be available on November 1st. It has been rented for the past three years but the tenants are leaving for service in Germany. We are not interested in renting it again. So, if you would like to live on Berwick Heights Road in East Stroudsburg get in touch with me, Elton Hall, Oneonta, N. Y. General 2-1000, call collect.

Or call Mr. Somers at Stroudsburg HA 1-3000 and he'll arrange for you to see the home today.

Mental Health Unit Cited By Rush Award

EDITOR'S NOTE — This is the fourth in a series of 12 articles covering each of the agencies benefiting from the annual Community Chest campaign now underway.

THE MONROE County Mental Health Assn. is only three years old, but it has already achieved a position of respect among those associated with it.

One of the 12 member agencies of Monroe County Community Chest, the mental health group was cited at the end of its first year of existence by the Monroe County Medical Society.

The annual Benjamin Rush award for outstanding service was presented to it.

Purpose of the association, as explained by Dr. John A. Abbruzzese, Jr., president, is to educate the public and to make persons more aware of the needs of the mentally ill.

The association attempts to route people to the proper agencies for care. It does not give direct service, but acts as a referral agency.

The group's board of directors include physicians, clergymen, lay members, representatives from each women's club, business men and housewives.

There is no referral within the group — that is, a person in need of the assistance of a clergyman would not be referred to one on the board — but board members of such a diversity generally know just where and to whom the patient should be sent.

Two years ago, the association made a survey throughout the county to determine its needs as far as mental health is concerned.

The agency's program is based upon this survey. It is now concentrating on educating the public as to the need for establishment of a Family Service Agency.

The local group is affiliated with both Pennsylvania Mental Health, Inc., and the National Mental Health Assn.

It is active in sponsorship of Christmas and Summer programs at Allentown State Hospital and this year donated more than 1,000 individual gifts for the hospital's Summer Carnival.

It also assists the hospital in clothing and magazine drives.

Tickets Distributed For Concert

TICKETS for the Endicott-Johnson Workers Chorus concert next month have been distributed to all members of the Stroudsburg Lions Club, it was announced last night.

The concert will be presented Nov. 13 at 8:45 p.m. at East Stroudsburg State Teachers College. Richard Shook is general chairman.

The chorus is marking its 15th year in the entertainment field, leaving behind a history of more than 200 benefit performances throughout New York State and Northern Pennsylvania.

Disbursement The group emphasizes programs which have a proportionate disbursement of popular, semi-classical and classical music and old-time folk favorites.

Harold Albert, director of the singers ever since the chorus was organized, was educated in this country and abroad at leading centers of musical instruction.

William Beddoe is assistant director as well as executive superintendent of an Endicott-Johnson plant. Harold Egan is company manager and Mrs. Frances Whittemore is the accompanist.

East Stroudsburg's Police Probe $135 Theft At IBW

EAST STROUDSBURG police are investigating theft of over $135 from cabinets in the office of the International Boiler Works on Birch St.

Police said a metal box in the office of the firm was pried open and keys to two cabinets were taken from it. Both cabinets were ransacked with the $135 being taken from one and a small amount of money from the other.

The money was derived from the company's canteen service which provides sick and death benefits for workers. There was no indication how the building was entered.

The firm closed at 5 p.m. Thursday and the entry was discovered yesterday morning.

Reports Made At Meeting Of MORA

REPORTS on visitations to Laurel Manor and plans to entertain guests there highlighted Wednesday's meeting of the MORA Club at the YMCA.

H. Tracy Stright spoke on the Monroe County Home at Kellersville and said that it needs, among other things, a loud speaker system.

He said such a system would permit non-ambulatory guests to participate in religious services and other meetings. The group reported approximately one-fourth of the cost of the system has been received.

The birthday anniversaries of William Totten and William Vanderrest were observed and Sterling Storm was introduced as a new member.

President James Bunnell acknowledged the gift of a large MORA wall emblem, created by Arthur Troegner, past president.

Group Treated For Injuries At Dispensary In Hospital

NINE-YEAR-OLD Paula Warnick of Stroudsburg was treated for slight injuries on her left knee, which she received while rollicking in the schoolyard.

Treatment took place at the Monroe County General Hospital Dispensary.

Beverly Whittaker, age three, fell off a stool in her home, landing on her left elbow. Noticing that Beverly could not use her arm, her parents took her to the dispensary where X-rays revealed a fracture.

Dennis Liebert, age eight, of Stroudsburg, received a contusion of the left eyebrow when he had a "run-in" with another boy.

Five-year-old Perry Hebard, of Shawnee, sustained lacerations of his chin when he fell off his bicycle near his home.

An East Stroudsburg State Teachers College student, Charles Swartz, collided with another student and needed three sutures to close a laceration on the right eyebrow.

Robert Young, 10, of Stroudsburg, is learning driver safety the hard way. He was thrown from his small car and hurt his ankle. X-rays revealed no fracture.

Honoring Pennsylvania's Youngest Business Men by Governor David L. Lawrence

October 17, an annual observance of National Newspaper Week, offers citizens of Pennsylvania occasion to salute the fine young men who faithfully deliver our newspapers to our doorsteps throughout the year.

"Pennsylvania's newspaperboys are proud examples of the youth from which our leaders of tomorrow will come. As they make their daily rounds they are serving in one of the traditional and most respected training programs in our Nation's system of free enterprise. Their courtesy, honesty and good faith merit our appreciation."
